

MISSING PRIEST'S BODY FOUND IN SAND

SHOT TO DEATH ON LONELY ROAD

CANTON, O., Aug. 11.—Paul ("Mooney") Kitzig, 29, of this city, who gained notoriety several months ago when he appeared in federal court at Cleveland as the star witness for the government in the trial of Ben Ruder, Canton, and a number of alleged associates on a charge of conspiring to violate the National prohibition law, was shot to death on a lonely road a short distance west of the Lakeside Country Club at 10 o'clock last night.

Two bullets entered Kitzig's body, either of which would have caused death. One pierced the brain from the left side of the head just above the ear and the other went through the body on the left side, according to Chief Deputy Sheriff C. W. Kirk, who was called to the scene of the shooting early this morning.

Ever since the trial at Cleveland, at which he gave damaging evidence against Ruder and the other alleged liquor runners, Kitzig on several occasions had expressed fear for his life. He is said to have told his friends that he believed that sooner or later some one probably would "get him." The investigating authorities, however, have not found anything to indicate that the trail of the murderer might lead to the trial at Cleveland.

The body was found early this morning by Mrs. August Leopold, who lives on a farm near the scene of the shooting. Mrs. Leopold, who was in the Leopold home all evening with her daughter, Ruth, told Deputy Kirk that a large automobile with two or three men in it, was seen near where the body was found, last night. She said she and her daughter walked down the road for some distance last night believing that someone was trying to steal produce from her truck. They saw, she said, the large machine with its bright lights burning, parked along the side of the road and two men standing and talking in front of the machine.

There was some swearing, she said, and there was other talk indicating that a quarrel was on between the men.

At exactly 10 o'clock, the time when a clock was striking in the Leopold home, the women told Kirk that they heard two shots fired in succession. They remarked at the time and wondered what had happened. They went out on the porch and saw the automobile turning and the driver, with his engine roaring, went west and was soon lost to view.

Tax Burden For People This Year $3,075,000,000, Shows Cut Of $600,000,000 Over Past Year

WASHINGTON, August 10.—The American people will have their first cut in taxes since the European war when they make out their income tax returns next March. President Harding and Secretary Mellon, as well as Republican leaders in Congress, mindful of the overwhelming opinion which demands that government expenses be cut and taxes reduced, have outlined a program which represents a net reduction of $600,000,000 in the amounts that must be raised by direct taxation.

Mr. Harding and the secretary of the treasury stood in the president's room of the executive offices and outlined to the correspondents the nature of the changes in the tax program. Chairman Joseph Forney, of the ways and means committee, and Republican leader Frank Mondell also stood by ready to answer questions and explain the figures. The picture was one of absolute informality, the president having asked his colleagues to stay in the room with him and submit to interrogation so that the public might have no misapprehensions about the tax program.

In order best to understand the changes that have been made the following table summarizes the data given out by the president and the secretary of the treasury.

DeValera Replies To British Offer

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(By The Associated Press)—The reply of Eamon De Valera, the Irish Republican leader, to the British government's Irish peace proposal was handed to Austin Chamberlain, government leader in the House of Commons at noon today.

The tenor of the reply was withheld. The official explanation was that it would be subject first to conferences by the cabinet and that it was unlikely to be divulged for some days.

Robert C. Barton, member of the Dail Eireanna, gave the reply to Mr. Chamberlain in the absence of Premier Lloyd George in France.

Mr. Barton was accompanied by Art O'Brien, president of the Gaelic League in London. Both of these men had been Mr. De Valera's companions during his recent talks in Downing street with Mr. Lloyd George.

Mr. Chamberlain announced in the house of commons this afternoon the receipt of the reply which was immediately forwarded to Mr. Lloyd George in Paris.

Asked as to whether he could inform the house what Mr. De Valera's reply was, the government leader said it was addressed to the prime minister and obviously must be considered by the latter before any statement regarding it could be made.

Finder Of Grave Is Held

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—A search today of the room occupied by W. A. Hightower, a baker, who last night led the police to the grave of the Rev. Patrick Heslin, missing priest, revealed a rifle, pieces of bloody burlaps and clippings from local newspapers showing the amount of the reward offered for the priest's return.

The police said they would confront Hightower at once with their findings.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 11.—The body of Father Patrick E. Heslin, missing Colma Catholic priest, who disappeared from his parish, Holy Angels' Catholic church, the night of August 2nd, was found buried at the bottom of a sand cliff near Salada Beach on the Pacific Ocean about 20 miles south of San Francisco.

Father Heslin had been murdered and there was a bullet hole through his heart and through his head, the latter shot having torn away part of the skull. The body was exhumed at 11 o'clock last night by a party consisting of Chief of Police Daniel O'Brien of San Francisco, Constable S. A. Landini, of Colma, four newspaper men and William A. Hightower, discoverer of the grave.

Hightower, after his clew had proven successful, was held by the police, pending further investigation. The body was buried in a cramped position in a trench beneath an overhanging wall. It lay parallel to the wall and against it and was covered with two feet of loose sand.

Hightower, according to police, said he acted upon a clue given him by a Dolly Mason, whom he had previously known in Salt Lake City. This woman, he said, told him last Sunday that she had met a man who appeared to be a foreigner on Friday night and who on becoming intoxicated, had made bawdy revelations to her. Police are searching for Dolly Mason.

The foreigner, Dolly Mason told Hightower, had shown her a pistol and when she pretended to snarl from it in fear, he said:

"You do right to be afraid of that gun. It has taken human life."

Dolly Mason then asked where the man was buried. Hightower said:

"He is not alone," the foreigner is said to have replied. "I've a man watching him all the time—a man who sits and cooks flapjacks."

At times, the foreigner, Dolly Mason told Hightower, expressed hatred for the Catholic church. Hightower, acting on information given him by the woman, he said, conducted a personal investigation and being somewhat familiar with Salada Beach vicinity, had little difficulty in locating a signboard picturing a man frying flapjacks.

He said he then started a search, finding a bit of black rag and later a 45 calibre revolver cartridge. He said he then burrowed into the newly dug sand by the face of the cliff and found a blood-stained piece of gunny sack.

"That was enough for one day," Hightower told the police. "I wanted to get away from there. I didn't want to look any further."

Hightower said he pondered over the matter for three days and last night after a further visit to his "find" resolved to go to the residence of Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, of San Francisco, and tell the high authorities of the church his story. The archbishop was in conference at the time and Hightower told his story to a newspaper reporter, who immediately took the man to his newspaper office where police officials were called. The man's story was then investigated. Hightower leading the way to the grave of Father Heslin.

Chief of Police O'Brien and Constable Landini found in the pockets of the dead priest a watch. The hands had stopped at eight minutes before (Continued on Page Six)

The freak is described as having a head of abnormal size, adorned with horns resembling those of a ruminant. Its mouth is of unusual size, with 24 prominent front teeth.

The arms are of unusual length, with enormous hands. A chain resembling an ordinary truss chain encircles the neck. Long wings of brownish color reach from the shoulders almost to the ankles. Imprint of the left hand is plainly visible on the chest. Sexton believes the object may be an image of an old tribe of Indians or cliff dwellers.

NEW CROSS-CONTINENT HIGHWAY WILL PASS THROUGH PORTSMOUTH

The Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce has received official notice from the Atlantic Pacific Highway Association, with headquarters at Ft. Scott, Kan., that Portsmouth has been selected as a point which will be located on this cross-continent highway.

This highway is established primarily to afford the shortest good roads route from Los Angeles to New York City.

It was originally intended that the highway through Ohio should touch Columbus and Zanesville, but with the assurance that a good road between Portsmouth and Cincinnati would only be a question of months. This, together with the reason that the shortest route is by the way of Cincinnati, along the Ohio river to Portsmouth, thence through to Huntington, W. Va., the plans were changed.

Portsmouth's position on this important thoroughfare has been established.

The Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce, together with the Automobile club, and all other commercial organizations along the route will petition the various man concerns to distinctly mark this highway upon the 1922 maps. With the exception of a few stretches of bad road, such as the Portsmouth-Cincinnati river road, the highway is in excellent condition.

The Atlantic-Pacific highway goes through the following states, making it a direct cross country route. California, Arizona, New Mexico, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey and New York.

By making Portsmouth on this most direct line across the continent, it will further enhance the tourists possibilities of the city making more hotel room necessary.

The Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce is asked to exert its influence upon the immediate improvement of the river road to Cincinnati, while the Huntington Chamber of Commerce is assigned to stimulate the good road work upon all the points between Ironton and Charleston.

Carlos Wittenmeyer While On Way Here From Detroit Figures In Thrilling Auto Accidents

To figure in two thrilling automobile accidents within a few hours was the experience of Carlos Wittenmeyer of Detroit, while enroute here Thursday with his wife to visit his cousin Judge James S. Thomas and other relatives at Peebles, their old home.

The first accident occurred near Waverly when Mr. Wittenmeyer stopped his Hudson sedan while climbing a grade in order to go back to get his hat which had blown off leaving his wife in the machine. He had gotten but a few feet away when the car started to back and he at once leaped in and despite his frantic effort to halt its progress down the grade the vehicle continued on its way and finally crashed over a steep embankment with its two occupants. The machine after turning over a couple of times landed at the bottom of the bank upside down with Mr. and Mrs. Wittenmeyer under it but remarkable to relate both escaped injury.

Freeing themselves from the machine which was badly wrecked Mrs. Wittenmeyer was brought to the home of Judge Thomas in this city by a Huntington motorist who chanced to see Mr. Wittenmeyer behind to look after the disabled auto. The Windel side of a bridge and plunged into a creek, turning turtle and landing in the creek bed several feet below. The automobile crew after releasing Mr. Wittenmeyer from under the machine, got it back in the road after several hours work and the journey to this city was finished in safety.

Mr. and Mrs. Wittenmeyer aside from suffering considerably from the nervous shock were none the worse off from their harrowing experiences and left Thursday for Peebles where they will visit for a few days while their machine is being repaired.

that Mr. Wittenmeyer had his second miraculous escape from serious injury or death for when the party was near Shriville, just this side of Pikelout, the Hudson was steered too close to the side of a bridge and plunged into a creek, turning turtle and landing in the creek bed several feet below. The automobile crew after releasing Mr. Wittenmeyer from under the machine, got it back in the road after several hours work and the journey to this city was finished in safety.

Mr. and Mrs. Wittenmeyer aside from suffering considerably from the nervous shock were none the worse off from their harrowing experiences and left Thursday for Peebles where they will visit for a few days while their machine is being repaired.

Jesse Cyrus Killed By Infuriated Bull

The following from Wednesday's Ashland, Ky., Independent is of interest here as Jesse Cyrus was a cousin of Mrs. Martha Johnson of Jackson street:

Jesse Cyrus, prominent farmer and stock breeder of Durbin, Boyd County, was killed yesterday by an infuriated bull.

He was driving his cows from a field into a barn about 6 p. m. yesterday when the bull becoming unduly excited ran into a small creek. Before the man could arise to protect himself the bull ran upon him, pawing and goring him about the head and chest.

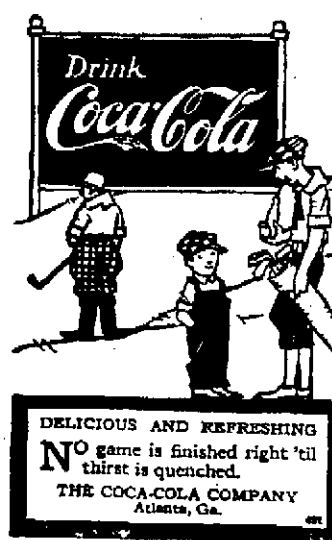

The shocking tragedy was witnessed by two of Mr. Cyrus' small children. The children panic stricken, were so frightened they could not at once summon aid, so that the wounded man lay in the creek for two hours, dying twenty minutes before neighbors came. His brother, P. P. Cyrus, of Ashland was notified and rushed to the Cyrus farm with a doctor only to find the man dead.

Mr. Cyrus, one of Eastern Kentucky's best known stock men, was 50 years old. He was well known in Ashland among business men and among farmers throughout Boyd county. For years he has been a prosperous farmer of the Durbin community. He was recognized as one of the best stock breeders in this section, specializing in thoroughbred stock. Mr. Cyrus is survived in his immediate family by his wife, four sons and five daughters. His father is Sam Cyrus, Mrs. Dr. J. M. Pritchard a sister, lives at Sixteenth street and Carter avenue, Ashland. P. P. Cyrus is a surviving brother. Miss Lucy Cyrus, a teacher in a grade school here, is a daughter.

The dead man was a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow.

LUCASVILLE FAIR IS BEST EVER: RECORD CROWD THERE TODAY

Exhibits And Attractions Highly Praised; Auto Polo Furnishes Thrill; Races Fine

If your heart is young take a trip to the Scioto County Fair at Lucasville.

If you are moved by the holiday spirit, that lingers through the atmosphere at this common meeting ground for social spirits, this week and have an inclination to explore all the collective wonders on display, you will go home tired, but very glad that you are alive and young—at heart.

A paved road leads straight to the fair grounds and a trip to the fair can be made in twenty minutes, at a fair rate of speed. The weather, Wednesday was ideal and the crowd the largest of any year on Wednesday. The grounds are surrounded by large shade trees, and cool spots are easily found. Seats are placed at convenient places, where the visitors may rest for awhile. Water and tin-cups are also to be found about the grounds, and may be used without cost.

Art Exhibits Are Best in Years

The Art Building is attracting more favorable attention this year than ever before. Fancy work in beautiful and intricate designs cause the women visitors to gaze in admiration. Skilled fingers have worked to make the embroidered, crocheted, and other needle work exhibits the best that have graced the Art Building in years.

Besides these finer bits of feminine ingenuity, the building houses many more interesting displays. "Portrait and landscape" photography has a number of entrants, eager to show their cleverness with a camera. There are many hand-painted pictures in oil and water color from the brushes of local artists. Hand-painted china is also the recipient of much attention as are many full-blossomed plants on display.

Scioto Valley Grange

Wine First Prize

Rumshine, Madison, and Scioto Valley Granges have complete displays of the products of the farm. All three displays seem to be complete in every detail, and the richness of Scioto County is shown in the quality of the products. Passing along one sees prize potatoes, tomatoes, melons, onions, pumpkins, cabbage, peppers, peaches, grapes, in fact everything obtainable grown in this county and not satisfied with that they even have bread, rolls and cakes out for the public view.

The first premium was given to the Scioto Valley Grange.

Girls' Food Club

Do Wonderful Work

Forty-two Scioto County girls have displays of canned goods in the Art Building. Their work is so neat, and thorough that more than one visiting housewife has marveled at the ability of the young women. Each girl has twelve plates of her work on display, and four clubs. Minford, Mrs. Lucy Fullerton, leader; Lucasville, Mrs. C. E. Moulton, leader; Wheelers Mill, Mrs. Charles Holt, leader; Haverhill, Mrs. Helen Butterfield, leader; and Wheelersburg, Mrs. G. E. Koch, leader, are contesting clubs.

The food is being judged by Miss Paula Horst, Columbus expert.

Boys' Pig Clubs

Show Forty Pigs

The Boys' Pig clubs of the county have a building all their own, and individual pens for their prize pigs, at the fair. The clubs are an unusually fine showing. Thirty-six young farmers are on the grounds, each having that his stock will be the one to win the big blue ear. They keep the pens in excellent condition and oil the pigs to make them appear their best.

The Lucasville Club, C. E. Moulton, leader, has six boys exhibiting; the Minford club, George Shumway, leader, has sixteen members and all are exhibiting stock; the Blue Creek Club, Fred Moeiz, leader, has nine members and seven of these are exhibiting; the Haverhill club, Charles Brush, leader, has nine members and eight are exhibiting.

Cattlemen Exhibit

Fancy Stock

Scioto county cattlemen are showing some fine breeds of stock that are causing a great deal of favorable comment. Joe Debbes has nine head of Hereford on display. The Angus breed is being exhibited by C. E. Moulton and Maurice Caldwell, and the Monton Brothers also show a fine line of Jerseys. The Holstein breed is being displayed by John Violet. The various calf clubs in the county have their choicest stock on display.

Pigs Creek is also a good place to secure valuable stock both in cattle and pigs according to their display at the fair. The big exhibitors include George Staker, Dan Oakes, Dodd brothers, Fred Moeiz and Jacob Hammerstein.

Clean Shows Form

Good Amusement

When it comes to being amused, it is according to ones' tastes just where they wish to seek it. The Fair Board has secured everything from an athletic show to Lora, the snake charmer. The amusements include, Dancing Girls, the biggest snake in the world, "Win a Bird," Palmist, educated pigs, Morris wheel, Merry-go-round, Kewpie Doll games, and any number of petty gambling devices.

Free Attractions

Get Large Crowds

The free attractions are by far better than any that have been had at the Lucasville fair. The strolling, from Cleveland, had not arrived Wednesday night. The Board has a contract with the pilot and believes that he will arrive before the fair is over.

Three games of auto polo are played every day. One of these is at 11 a. m., 1 p. m. and 3 p. m., central standard time, at the race track, in front of the grand stand.

Three Roman Gyroscopes, a Keith circuit attraction, give a free demonstration of singing and dancing on the platform. Their act is unusually good. They perform in the early part of the afternoon.

William Rogers makes a balloon ascension each afternoon at twelve and four o'clock.

The River City band plays every hour before the grand stand.

New Parking Rules

Meet With Approval

Having been awarded more ground for the fair, this year, the Fair Board put into practice new plans for parking vehicles Wednesday. It gave great satisfaction and from yesterday's experience it can be seen that the plan will give the greatest satisfaction. The officials are greatly pleased that they can handle huge crowds with little or no trouble. Police direct the parking of cars, which is free this year.

Races Are

Highly Contested

Lord Booth, owned by Cliff Ball of Pedro, Ohio, took the second heat and Lord Carper, owned by J. B. Wilton of Vanceburg, and Mary Finch, owned by R. J. The county green trot and pace went to Nettie McKimney of South Portsmouth in two straight heats of 2:40 1/4 and 2:41 1/4. Jessie J., owned by John Maple of Lucasville, finished second in both heats.

The five horses entered in the 2:30 pace, the final race of the card, finished in exactly the same position for three consecutive heats. Each time the horses were bunched when they passed under the wires, Brown Joe, owned by Fred Weaver of Ironton, winning first place only by a close margin. Pictorial races have not been seen on the local track for many years. The time was practically uniform. Brown Joe being clocked in 2:20 1/4, 2:20 1/2 and 2:20 1/2 in the three heats.

Dr. Joseph Lake acted as starter for all races, with David Stahler, John Eckhart and Abe Miller as judges. Fred Tyner and Jacob Hettrick served as timers and P. H. Harsha was the clerk.

Auto Polo Player Is Hurt

When the Ford machine he was driving turned turtle twice during the last auto polo race at the Scioto County Fair, Lucasville, Wednesday afternoon, Louis Schneider, 20, of Indianapolis, was painfully injured.

The accident happened before an awe-struck crowd that had thronged the grand stand at the fair to get a glimpse of this dangerous sport.

Schneider was driving the winning machine, and when his car started to turn, he attempted to jump clear of the machine. However, it did not stop at the turn, but had been going so fast that it turned over twice, catching his right foot under the frame on the second turn. The other occupant of the car, leaped far enough away that he was not hurt.

Schneider has been driving in polo races for two years and suffered his first accident Wednesday. He is a wonderful driver, and had the speedy little car under his control at all times. It is a part of the game to turn the opponents' car over if possible.

Dr. J. N. Hitting, Lucasville, and Dr. W. D. Micklethwait, Portsmouth, were attending the fair and rendered medical service to Schneider, who was taken to the Red Cross headquarters on the grounds, where an examination was made of his foot. It gave him a great deal of pain, and began to swell at a rapid rate. He was brought to this city to the Mercy Hospital, where he spent a restless night. An x-ray showed that he suffered from a small broken bone in his foot. He x-rayed again Thursday.

After the accident, the game was called off, with two minutes yet to play.

Stars Vs. Sciotoville

Garb's All Stars will play a return game with the fast Sciotoville club in Millbrook Sunday. This promises to be one of the best games of the season.

Auto Polo Player Is Hurt

When the Ford machine he was driving turned turtle twice during the last auto polo race at the Scioto County Fair, Lucasville, Wednesday afternoon, Louis Schneider, 20, of Indianapolis, was painfully injured.

The accident happened before an awe-struck crowd that had thronged the grand stand at the fair to get a glimpse of this dangerous sport.

Schneider was driving the winning machine, and when his car started to turn, he attempted to jump clear of the machine. However, it did not stop at the turn, but had been going so fast that it turned over twice, catching his right foot under the frame on the second turn. The other occupant of the car, leaped far enough away that he was not hurt.

Schneider has been driving in polo races for two years and suffered his first accident Wednesday. He is a wonderful driver, and had the speedy little car under his control at all times. It is a part of the game to turn the opponents' car over if possible.

Dr. J. N. Hitting, Lucasville, and Dr. W. D. Micklethwait, Portsmouth, were attending the fair and rendered medical service to Schneider, who was taken to the Red Cross headquarters on the grounds, where an examination was made of his foot. It gave him a great deal of pain, and began to swell at a rapid rate. He was brought to this city to the Mercy Hospital, where he spent a restless night. An x-ray showed that he suffered from a small broken bone in his foot. He x-rayed again Thursday.

After the accident, the game was called off, with two minutes yet to play.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woe, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

should we wear our dresses?

GREEN-YELLOW.
Girls of your complexion may wear most colors becomingly. It would be fun to have a mixed crowd at your party. Wear your dresses at least three inches below your knees.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a young lady twenty years old. I am going with a fellow who folks are against. We go together on the sly. He is no man for society and I love to dance and go out and have a good time. He wants me to run away with him and get married. I know it would kill my mother. I have tried to deceive her already. In time to come will I be happy? My folks do everything they can for me. Shall I listen to him or stand by my mother? I know he won't talk to my folks. Do you think I ought to respect a man who won't speak to them?

MARY.
I do not like the things you say about the young man, and would advise you to obey the wishes of your parents. A man who will not speak to your parents is not the kind of man you want to marry. You may be sure that he would treat you in the same way after marriage. Besides you and he are not well suited to each other since you like society and he does not.

Dear Dolly—When I was in the sixth grade I met a boy whom I liked very much. We were chummy for over two years. Then he moved from town. Before he left I gave a small party for him and promised to write. The first letter from him was a decided love letter. It provoked me and I did not answer it or the others that followed. This letter became fewer and in one year he returned. We did not speak. We went to the same high school and not until this May, which made three years since his return, did we see each other. I have gone with about twenty or more different fellows, but none of them appealed to me. Now this "old beau" has shown signs of great interest. I in turn am very much interested in him. Both of us are backward in making advances. Will you kindly tell me how to win him back? I am going on my vacation soon. Would it be all right to send him a card? Do you think this is worthy of publication? Surely it would not last for six years. I saw him only the other afternoon and he went away out of his way to speak to me.

LONESOME.
Since your correspondence is so far in the past, I would not advise you to renew it by sending a card now. Instead it would be better for you to invite the young man to come to see you some time. Speak to him cordially and show by your actions that you regard him as an old friend. I cannot say whether you are the victim of imagination or real love. It may be that you have been building ideas around each other all this time which will fall when you become better acquainted.

How I Keep My Complexion Beautiful

By BESSIE LOVE
The Well Known Actress

New York—Any girl or woman can have a beautiful rosy-white complexion if they will follow this simple recipe. Get from any toilet counter a package of Derwillo and a tube of Liska cold cream. Massage it well into the skin, then wipe off with a soft cloth. In the morning, bathe the face with warm water then rinse with cold water, dry thoroughly, and apply Derwillo to the face, neck, hands and arms. Use white Derwillo on the neck, chest, hands and arms, and flesh or sensitive Derwillo on the face.

The moment Derwillo is applied you will have a complexion as beautiful as a rose and you will look ten years younger. A single trial will convince you of this fact. You cannot find anything better for dark sallow skin, freckles, tan, sunburn, windburn, wrinkles, roughness, blueheads, or discolorations of any kind. It leaves the skin soft, velvety and radiantly beautiful.

GIRLS! LEMONS

WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents. Shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft clear rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate—advertisement.

ARLINE IS DISCUSSED

"When are Miss Bates and her doctor thinking of being married?" asked Mrs. Hazen during the course of the dinner.

"I don't know, I'm sure. Arline seems undecided, herself. She is not a girl who gives you her confidences quickly. And I have never pressed her on the subject," answered Cherry.

"She seems to be a bit of a flut about it, my way of thinking, and the place for her is home with her father. I declare I feel sorry for that poor man. There he sits in a mansion all by himself and Arline should at least remember that he is not as young as he used to be. She surely owes her own father something."

"She seems to prefer Wellsburg and Wellsburg society, though," said Cherry thoughtfully, crumpling a piece of bread beside her.

"Well, that may be. But I'm not so sure that Wellsburg society is particularly fond of her. We all think that she would be better off at home. I never feel that that girl is telling you her real thoughts, not even when she looks into your eyes. Isn't that funny, Cherry?"

"I never really thought about this at all, Mrs. Hazen," answered Cherry, wondering miserably how long this conversation would keep up. "But I hope the best for Arline. She seems to be the victim of circumstances to me. Maybe the girl is more shy than we give her credit for."

"They do say that the man who marries her will be the richer by a hundred thousand dollars, though. And in spite of that fact I do not know of one Wellsburg man who has proposed to her heart and fortune."

"Don't worry, mother. I know of several. They've been very quiet about their rejections, however, and that's why you have not found this out," broke in Arthur with a dry chuckle.

Cherry looked at him quickly. She wondered what he was thinking of, whether he referred to any men that she knew.

"Shorty" Johnson got one awful hard squelch, as far as I know," went on Arthur. "He was really mad about Arline Bates. Soft for her eyes and everything about her. Wrote long poems to her, too, and then at the end she almost laughed at him when he did propose. That's what I've got against the girl. She seems utterly heartless to me. Poor old 'Shorty' is not much to look at. I'll say, but she might look for a finer man. He's true blue, all the way and back again. And he is one of our worthiest citizens."

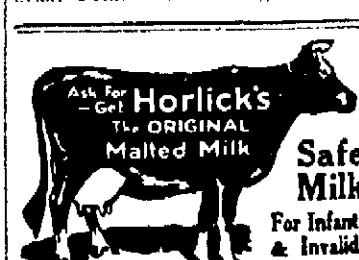

"A mighty nice sort of man," said Cherry. "And he's always so thoughtful, too. He'd have given his life for Arline, I'm sure."

"Not now, no, sirree, Bob. He's cured. Trouble is, it's put him off all girls as far as I can make out. Some day he may forget this, but it's too bad he had to go through it."

"If marriages are made in heaven, the powers that be would never permit a man like Alfred Johnson to fall in love with a girl like Miss Bates," said Mrs. Hazen, positively. "She'd have made his life one long dance. That girl cares only for herself. She never could appreciate a useful chap like Alfred. Never in the world. I, for one, am glad that he resigned."

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Labold of Fifth street returned last evening from a delightful motor trip to Cleveland, Cedar Point and Pittsburgh.

THE TRIALS OF A HOUSEWIFE

How They Have Been Endured and How Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Experience of a Providence Woman

Providence, R. I.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a female trouble and backache. It began just after my baby was born, and I did the best I could about getting my work done, but I had awful bearing-down pains so I could not stand on my feet. I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the good it was doing other women, and I have got dandy results from it and will always recommend it. You can use these facts as a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. HERBERT L. CASSEN, 18 Meni Court, Providence, R. I.

Ohio woman for three years could hardly keep about and do her housework as she was so ill. Made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Fayette, O.—"For about three years I was very nervous and had backache, sideache, dragging-down pains, could not sleep at night, and had no appetite. At times I could hardly do my housework. I got medicine from the doctor but it did not help me. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and took it with good results, and am now able to do my housework. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. CHESTER A. BALL, R. 15, Fayette, Ohio.

An Illinois woman relates her experience: Bloomington, Ill.—"I was never very strong and female trouble kept me so weak I had no interest in my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or sweep a room without raging with pain. Rubbing my back with alcohol sometimes eased the pain for a few hours, but did not stop it. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and six bottles of it have made me as strong and healthy as any woman; and I give my thanks to it for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQuitty, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

The conditions described by Mrs. Cassen, Mrs. Ball, and Mrs. McQuitty will appeal to many women who struggle on with their daily tasks in just such conditions—in fact, it is said that the tragedy in the lives of some women is almost beyond belief. Day in and day out they slave in their homes for their families—and beside the daily routine of housework, often make clothes for themselves and for their children, or work in their gardens, all the while suffering from those awful bearing-down pains, backache, headaches, nervousness, the blues, and troubles which sap the very foundation of life until there comes a time when nature gives out and an operation seems inevitable. If such women would only profit by the experience of these three women, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the natural restorative for such conditions it may save them years of suffering and unhappiness.

There is hardly a neighborhood in any town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been restored to health by this famous medicine. Therefore ask your neighbor, and you will find in a great many cases that at some time or other she, too, has been benefited by taking it, and will recommend it to you. For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring suffering women to health and strength. Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Despondent Woman Takes Poison

"I have had so many things to worry me that I don't care whether I live or not. My health is bad and I cannot support my two children." Nora Horner, aged 33, said Wednesday when asked why she had swallowed three poisonous tablets yesterday at her home near Sixth and Glover streets.

"I just became blue and thought everybody and the whole world had turned against me. I am sorry now and hope I recover. I just lost my senses and really had no business to take the poison."

She was in a serious condition for several hours and has not yet been declared out of danger by her physicians. The woman denied there was a love story back of her motive. "Why I had two men, and that is enough for me," she said today. Her first husband was Grover McClurg and her second was James Wright. She was divorced from both of them she says. She has two children, Myrtle and Virgie McClurg.

After taking the tablets Miss Horner became desperately ill and for several hours it was thought she would die. She rallied last night and was better today. Her physician was quickly administered and her physicians believe it will neutralize the poison in her system.

It may not be known for several days just how her condition is. Miss Horner suffered very little pain today and talked freely about her attempt to end her life. She says she wants to get well and take care of her children.

How to Banish Piles

Thousand Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered a Common Sense Remedy

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID. The Doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubt or delay Wurster Bros. and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back.

On that honorable basis every sufferer should secure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today. —Advertisement.

the war and is to be regarded as a part of the war debt. There wasn't any more reason in Mr. Mellon's opinion for paying that $170,000,000 out of new revenue than paying off liberty bonds. Of course such part of the $170,000,000 as falls due during the year will be paid for out of sinking fund or other available funds. It isn't quite such a large amount but what it can be handled satisfactorily. So it was cut out of the estimates of the new revenue.

War Tax Burden Reduced

The most important announcement made was that the actual tax burden of the people will be $3,075,000,000. This is about $600,000,000 less than it has been under the present law. The following analysis shows how the government has decided to bring about the reduction.

Amount of new budget, $4,044,000,000.

Amount to be raised by direct taxation of the people, $3,075,000,000.

Difference, $969,000,000. That means the government must raise $969,000,000 from other sources than income taxes. Here is how that is to be done:

Revenue from present tariffs—$300,000,000.

Back taxes unpaid or evaded—$100,000,000.

Salvage of government property—$140,000,000.

Increased revenue expected from new tariff—$70,000,000.

Unusual miscellaneous receipts into treasury—$340,000,000.

Total from sources other than income taxes—$969,000,000.

Now examining the item of $3,075,000,000, which is to be collected in income taxes from the people, the government proposes to readjust taxes in various ways.

Excess Profits Tax To Be Repealed

In the first place the excess profits tax will be repealed so as to be effective from last January. Business men making out their income taxes for the year 1921, can forget about excess profits taxes. On the other hand the corporation taxes which it has been estimated two weeks ago should be increased from the present rate of ten percent to fifteen percent, will not be that high after all. The rate will be twelve and one-half percent.

The taxes on wearing apparel will be repealed and all the proposals to increase postage from two to three cents or to tax bank checks or automobile licenses have been dropped altogether. It is estimated that the corporation tax will yield an additional $125,000,000 by reason of the increased corporation rate. This will help offset some of the losses occasioned by the repeal of the excess profits taxes. The taxes on freight and passenger fares will be reduced by one-half, but will not take effect until next January, so they will hardly be felt by the public until the year 1922, but it is also promised that all taxes on passenger and freight rates will be removed at the end of 1922 so that people can travel in the year 1923 without paying any war taxes. There will be a readjustment of the taxes on soft drinks.

Some Relief Now—More Next Year

Broadly speaking, the Harding administration is trying to give the public some relief this year and promises more next year. Big business which has contended that the excess profits tax strangled initiative has been given immediate relief on that score and while the tax changes do not affect the smaller incomes, the theory is that with the lifting of the burden on corporations a revival of business will ensue and the industrial depression will come to an end.

Of course, congress has not absolutely agreed to the changes proposed by the president and the Republican leaders, but the plan now is to pass the revenue bill through a Republican caucus and then through the house, leaving it to the senate to try to find still further ways to reduce taxes.

Don't Be Bald

How to Make Hair Grow Strong, Thick and Lustrous

If your hair is thinning out, don't wait another day, but go to Wurster Bros. and get a bottle of Parisian Sage, the truly efficient hair grower.

Don't say: "It's the same old story; I've heard it before," but try a bottle at their risk. They guarantee Parisian Sage to stop falling hair and stimulate a new growth, banish all dandruff and almost instantly stop scalp itch, or money back.

Parisian Sage contains just the elements needed to properly invigorate the hair roots. It's a prime favorite with discriminating women because it makes the hair so soft and lustrous, and keeps it twice as abundant.

Parisian Sage is inexpensive and easily obtainable at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Daves.

Further exchanges of opinion on the agenda will probably continue. All thought of preliminary conferences had been abandoned but the state department has made it clear to the representatives of the invited powers that there is every disposition here for a full and frank preliminary expression of opinion of what subjects should be discussed. The final arrangements of the agenda, however, probably will be made after the conference meets.

Subjects relating to the disarmament negotiations were talked over for an hour today by President Harding and Senator Borah, author of the resolution requesting the executive to call a disarmament conference. The meeting was arranged at the president's request.

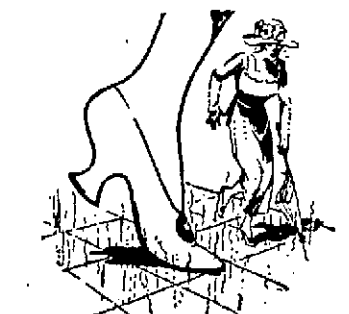

Mr. Borah is understood to have detailed his views regarding the stand the United States should take in the preliminary negotiations that are to determine what subjects are to come before the conference.

It was also indicated that the Idaho senator urged all practicable publicity for conference meetings and that every appearance of secret of diplomacy be avoided. The question of negotiations for treaty of commerce and amity with Germany also came into the discussion, Senator Borah inquiring what steps had been taken in that direction.

Afterwards Senator Borah would not indicate what information the president had given him except to say that in his opinion events were moving towards the conclusion of such a treaty.

the issuance of a formal declaration of peace with Germany might be delayed until the treaty had been signed. No official would make any pretension on the subject but there was evidence that the proclamation which had been expected several weeks, might be delayed indefinitely.

Tax Burden

Secretary Mellon as necessary to run the government, $4,554,000,000.

Amount now officially estimated as budget, $4,034,000,000.

Net reduction in estimates, $520,000,000.

How was that $520,000,000 cut in estimates accomplished? The president simply estimated that the various government departments cut their requests for money still further than they have. Furthermore certain sums which were falling due this year and which were expected to be paid out of new revenues will be deferred. So the analysis of the $520,000,000 reduction in estimates is as follows:

Amount by which government departments will reduce their appropriations, $350,000,000.

Amount of floating bad debt to be deferred, $170,000,000.

Total, $520,000,000.

The floating debt referred to above consists of about $100,000,000 in war savings securities and $70,000,000 in what is known as Pittman net certificates. As a matter of fact this total of $170,000,000 was incurred during

US CARTRIDGES AND SHELLS

This priming won't ruin your rifle

Your rifle is your friend. You treat it as something more than cold metal and wood. You couldn't sleep if you had used it and not cleaned it thoroughly.

Buy only US Cartridges. They have a special non-fouling, non-erosive priming. Every expert knows that ordinary priming causes rust and in time digs little "pits" that destroy the accuracy of the bore.

If you value your rifle, treat it well. Give it the ammunition that will protect it from the ravages of rust.

SURVEY SHOWS 1,853 HOMES NEEDED IN CITY

There are 1853 new homes needed in Scioto county. That is, this many new homes must be built, according to estimates made by the United States Department of Commerce, if every family in Scioto county is to be properly housed. At the present time one family in six in this county is without its own home. Building, on the scale urged by the Department of Commerce, also would go a long way toward beating down high rents charged in many places.

The above figures have been given building and loan institutions, which according to Secretary of Commerce Hoover are the chief agencies for home building. To build the estimated number of homes needed in the entire county will take approximately $3,700,000. The assets of all the building and loan institutions in this county are $6,400,000 but nearly 100 percent of these funds already are loaned on homes and these financial institutions at the present time are handicapped through insufficient funds in relieving the shortage of home building funds. The home shortage can only be relieved by the placing of savings in institutions catering to home financing, according to James A. Devine, Secretary of the Ohio Building Association. "Each community will benefit only in part as it puts its savings into institutions that help to build towns," said Devine. Every rightful effort should be made at this time to increase construction work especially in building of residential type. Such activities not only will help alleviate the ill of inadequate housing but they will help general business by providing employment for men who are now idle and create business for many lines of industry.

The economic loss to the nation by reason of visual defects cannot be estimated, but it must be enormous. And the subject deserves more attention than has been given it.

Physical fitness is impossible with any appreciable error of vision. Efficiency is tremendously curtailed in those whose sight is below par. And we repeat, in millions of cases these defects are possessed by individuals who are not aware of the fact.

This would indicate the necessity for Optometrists acquainting the public with the full scope of their profession, and the advisability of many people who have never done so, presenting themselves to the Optometrist for a consideration of their cases.

ROBBED OF $159

"Hands up!" was the command of bold highwaymen to Cloie McClain as he neared a dark spot in the street near the corner of Seventh and John streets Wednesday midnight, according to a complaint he made to the police later. McClain stated that he lost no time in obeying the command, as he was facing a big revolver and claimed that while one of the two men kept the gun leveled at him the other relieved him of the burden of carrying his roll containing $159.

McClain who lives at New Boston, was so badly frightened that he was unable to furnish but a meagre description of the robbers, who, he said, backed away in the darkness and disappeared after telling him to move on and warning him against making an outcry. The police on being notified scoured the city in an attempt to apprehend the robbers but no clue was secured.

Horse Falls Dead At Fair

Arde excitement was given the horse races at the Scioto County Fair, at Zanesville, Wednesday afternoon, when valuable horse belonging to Proctor Willis dropped dead while running in the 2:40 trot.

Arthur S., a fine bay gelding, had been making a good showing on the turf this season. It was entered in the Pheasant Fair, and gave no trouble at all. He did not appear to be ill, or out-of-condition in any way.

However, officials in the judges' stand stated later, that the horse did not appear to be in the best of condition. Arthur S. was running in last place in the first heat of the 2:40 pace, and about a half mile had been covered of the race, when he suddenly staggered and toppled over, dead.

LAW AGAINST GLARE

New Ohio law calls for non-glaring headlights

If you use a motor vehicle in the state of Ohio, you are now liable to arrest and fine up to $100 unless your headlights are equipped with a device to prevent glare. Police can now accept only those devices approved by the state highway commissioner.

Macbeth and Liberty Lenses Comply with the Law

- Avoid detention, arrest and fine by equipping your car now with Liberty or Macbeth lenses. These lenses
- are approved by the Ohio highway commissioner
- are legal in Ohio and all other states
- prevent glare without dimming your lights
- fit any head lamp, and are sold everywhere

When you get new lenses beware of painted lenses. You'll find the paint wears, washes and chips off, making your headlights unlawful. The green in the Macbeth Green Visor Lens is a permanent part of the lens, because it is fused into the visor. Absolutely will not wear off, chip off, or fade. You are safe in getting Macbeth or Liberty lenses. Some so-called legal lenses are not legal in Ohio unless tilted forward so many degrees. Why risk trouble? Just put on Macbeth or Liberty lenses and your headlights are 100% legal always and everywhere. Under this new law the demand will be heavy. We advise that you get yours while the dealer has them.

OUT OF WORK, TAKES POISON

Hay Coleman, 30, married, of Manchester, who committed suicide at Huntington, at six o'clock, Wednesday evening, by drinking carbolic acid, is thought to have been driven to the act by the fact that he was out of employment, and unable to secure another position.

Coleman was employed as a railroad clerk, and was laid off with a number of other clerks about a month ago. He had not been able to find anything to do since, but did not appear to be particularly despondent.

His wife, who was Miss Corinne White of Manchester, had been in the latter village visiting her father, Edward White, for some time, and went to Huntington to join her husband, Tuesday evening. Although they are both from Manchester, and spent a great deal of their time there, they had taken rooms in Huntington, before Mr. Coleman was laid off.

Mrs. White was unaware that anything was worrying her husband, and his act has left her prostrate.

The couple had no children. Upon receiving word of the tragic death of his son-in-law, Mr. White left immediately for Huntington.

Mr. Coleman had no relatives. The body will be taken to Manchester for burial.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Industrial shares repeated their recent familiar performance at the opening of the stock market today, initial prices being sharply lower in many instances.
Virtually all of the shares which featured yesterday's selling movement were again weak. American Sugar and General Electric touched new low levels for the year at 11 1/4 and 11 1/2 respectively. Western Petroleum, Pullman, Kelly Springfield International Paper and United States Alcohol sagged one to one and one quarter and Baldwin, American Car, Crucible Steel, and Inspiration Copper one half to 3/4.
Western Union was a notable exception, starting 2 1/2 points higher at 78 1/2. Sterling exchange ruled about a cent higher.
Confident short selling produced an extensive array of substantial declines in the forenoon. Heavy pressure was exerted against oils, but no section of the market was exempt from weakness.
Additional low records for the year were scored, including Utah Copper which sold at 44 1/2. Doubts as to the maintenance of dividends caused great uneasiness in various shares, but the excessive market suffered from the widening scope of bear activities. Call money was retained at the recent ruling of six per cent.
The closing was weak.
Popular speculative shares were depressed today owing to a large increase in bearish sentiment among the professionals. Sales approximated
550,000 shares.NEW YORK STOCKS

Of LegionWASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Congressional investigation of the Ameri-

"scandalous and disgraceful conduct of self-perpetuating officials" was asked in a petition presented today to Vice President Coolidge and Speaker Gil-that a small group of men furnished financial backing for the legion and its officers were working in the interpersonal benefit.The legion plan was conceived in France by "a group of silk stockinged officials." It opened New York of-thousands of dollars," from unknown persons, the petition declared, adding that officers, delegates and successors were chosen arbitrarily "on a self-per-

STEELMEN AND SELBYS PLAY RAGGED 5-5 GAME

TEAM STANDING

Central Labor	9	15

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE
 Thursday, Aug. 11—Central Labor vs. Selby.
 Friday, Aug. 12—Steel Plant vs. N. & W.
 Saturday, Aug. 13—To be arranged.

In one of the poorest played games of the year, which was stopped by darkness in the seventh inning, the Selby Arch Preservers and Steel Plant battled to a 5 to 5 tie at the seventh street yards, last evening which will, of course, lengthen out the season one more day at least. The game put up by the Steelmen was the poorest exhibition of the year, no less than seven rank errors being committed behind the splendid pitching of Carl Whitlatch, who should have been credited with a shut out. Had it not been that the Steelmen clubbed the offerings of Ed Mowery to all corners, the game would have been beaten to a frazzle. This, of course, is to their credit, and it is a good thing they did hit for they certainly played a most miserable game on the green. While the Steelmen cuffed Mowery and finally sent him to the tail and snout, George Adams who took his place was extremely effective the rest of the way. It was good fortune that the Arch Preservers did not select Adams to start the game, otherwise N. & W. stock would have soared away above par.

The game was full of all sorts of things—first one thing and then another—nearly everything else. The Selby fielded right up to the handle, the work of every man who had anything to do being away above that displayed by the Steelmen. Incidentally there was much wrangling. The Steelmen claim that they were ejected out of the game when Kent was called out at the plate on Otha Lewis' great drive to right. They claim that Catcher Ted Weber never touched the runner, and so thought many of the fans. Then, the Selbys claimed that Groh should have scored the winning run in the sixth when Stillwell allowed one of Whitlatch's shots to escape him. Umpire Hartlage appealed to Umpire Moore and the latter claims that Hopkins, who was at the bat, fouled the ball. Groh was sent back to third, where he died. Had he been allowed to count the run the Selby claim would have won.

The Selbys made but 5 hits off Whitlatch, but the seven errors spelled by his backers counted for every run.

scored. After the second inning, the Steel Plant had played great ball while Whitlatch allowed but two hits after the second, one of which was a scratch. In fact, three of the five hits made off his delivery were of the scratchy variety.

In all the Steel Plant made eleven hits, three of which were garnered by Otha Lewis, who lived up to his reputation of being a slugger of the Babe Ruth type. One of his hits was a triple and the others doubles. Whitlatch helped keep his team in the game by lacing out a couple of hits in three trials.

Mowery got by nicely in the first frame, but in the second he was clubbed for four hits and in the next frame he yielded three. Adams relieved him and yielded but four hits. The following tells how the game was played:

1st Inning
 Geo. Stuten sent a long fly to Hughes in middle. Schweinsberg fanned, on three pitched balls. Kent grounded to Spence. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Weber took second when G. Stuten threw his bouncer in the bleachers. Edwards safe on his bunt, due to W. Stuten's error. He stole. Keyser rolled to second. Spence fanned. Grace singled to left, scoring Weber and Edwards. Groh beat out a hit to second, third Groh scored. Groh took third on a wild pitch. Hughes bounced to the box—3 runs, 2 hits, 3 errors.

2d Inning
 Lewis doubled to right. DeVoss singled to right, scoring Lewis and took second on the throw in. Prediger grounded to second. W. Stuten grounded to short. DeVoss scoring. Stillwell's hopper bouncer over Edwards for a single, and he took second on a wild pitch. Whitlatch singled to center, Stillwell scoring. Whitlatch went to second on the throw in. G. Stuten grounded to second—3 runs, 4 hits, no errors.

4th Inning
 George Adams relieved Mowery as boxman at the start of this frame. W. Stuten flied to short. Stillwell walked on wide ones. Whitlatch hit into a double play—No runs, no hits, no errors.

Hopkins singled to middle. Adams popped to Whitlatch. Weber hit into a double play—No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

5th Inning
 G. Stuten singled to right. Schweinsberg walked. Kent forced Stuten at third. Lewis grounded to first. DeVoss was thrown out by Edwards. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

6th Inning
 Prediger beat out a roller to third. W. Stuten sacrificed. Stillwell fanned. Whitlatch singled to left and stole second. G. Stuten flied to middle. No runs, 2 hits, no errors.

7th Inning
 Schweinsberg fanned. Kent fouled to third. Lewis doubled to right. DeVoss rolled to second. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

REMAINDER OF SCHEDULE
 Thursday—Vulcans vs. Postoffice.
 Friday—Retailers vs. Standard Supply.
 Monday—Gilbert Grocery vs. Ohio State Life.
 Tuesday—Postoffice vs. Retailers.

Overcoming a three run lead in the seventh frame, the Gilbert Grocery nine snatched the brand from the burning fire, pulled the chestnuts from the fire, and otherwise saved themselves from defeat at the hands of Ohio State Life at York Park yesterday. The final score was 7 to 6.

The game was filled with thrills, and the final lining rally of the Grocers left their supporters well-nigh in a state of nervous prostration. The Insurance men pulled three double plays during the game, while healthy doubts bunched in the fourth, culminating in Hopkins' homer with two on provided plenty of dramatic incident. The Grocers bunched a mess of swats in the final frame for their winning run with a double when two men were on and two down. For the second time in two nights, a man was out when struck by a batted ball.

The Grocers had the better of the counting, getting a total of 12 hits while the best the Lifers could do was 7. Rose gave the only free ticket.

Ohio Life had four errors while Gilberts slipped three times.

The two teams started the first very peacefully, dividing two runs between them. Lewis, first up for the Ohio Life, hit one too hot for C. Malone to handle, but was caught off first. Hopkins walked. Triple then slugged, and when Weidner lost the ball out in the jungles of middle, Hoppy scored the first tallie. The Grocers likewise scored on a foolie, Bradford getting on with a double over the wall. Gehres then booted Weidner's grounder and Bradford scored. Gehres redeemed himself to a certain extent when he participated in the first double play, Elmeier to Gehres to Hopkins, on Rose's short tap.

The Gilberts took a lead in the second with two runs which they main-tailed until the fourth. Lewis then hit over the floodwall for two with the bases full, scoring two runs and leaving two on. Lewis' hit was the third in three times up. Hopkins then pulled his Ruth-rap stunt and three runners trotted over the pan, putting the lifers ahead, 6 to 3.

For two innings the Insurance boys kept the Grocers from crossing the rubber, while the Gilberts retaliated in kind. In the sixth, R. Malone hit into the third double play, rolling to second to force Gayheart, and going out himself on the toss to first.

In the seventh, C. Malone went out, second to first, and Blankmeyer singled. Bradford doubled and Blankmeyer scored. It was Bradford's fourth hit in four trips to the pan. Weidner hit to right and Rose was tossed out at first, leaving two on and two to go, to tie the score. Haislett tapped to Elmeier, who muffed, and Bradford scored. With two on, two down and two needed to win, Gayheart doubled and chased in Haislett and Weidner, ending one of the most put 'n' cake games of the season.

Australia Vs. Denmark Today

CLEVELAND, Aug. 10.—Australia and Denmark will come together upon the grass courts at the Mayfield Country Club this afternoon in the first two singles matches of the semi-final round of the Davis cup tennis.

Erik Tegner, Denmark, plays Norman Peach, Australia, at 3 p. m., while Vern Ingversen, Denmark, plays Norman Peach, Australia, at 3:30 p. m.

Peach, the captain of the Australian team, thus tackles the Dane who defeated W. H. Laurentz, French champion, in a recent tournament in France, Tegner while already rated as one of the best players in Europe, has not reached his top notch. He is but 24 years of age.

Anderson, who meets Ingversen in the other match this afternoon is believed to be Australia's best player in singles. He stands six feet three inches in height and his victories in Canada and against the Britons in Pittsburgh show he is playing great tennis. Ingversen, his opponent, is the singles champion of Denmark. In fact, he is considered the best in all Scandinavia.

E. C. Torrey, vice president of the United States Tennis Association, will act as referee.

Tendler Presents His Claims

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—Low Tendler, challenger for world's lightweight boxing championship who was to meet Henry Leonard in a bout for the title here tomorrow night which was called off when the champion dislocated his thumb has announced he would appear at the promoters' headquarters at the scheduled weighing in time and claim the forfeit of $5,000 posted by Leonard with a local sporting writer. Tendler also announced he will claim the title, declaring he trained faithfully for the match and was ready to carry out his part of the contract.

Yesterday's Features

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Two major league pitchers proved their hitting ability yesterday by batting in winning runs. Cadore of the Brooklyn Nationals won a pitchers battle from Morrison of Pittsburgh by knocking in the only tally of the contest. Couble of the Cincinnati Nationals made up for the runs scored off him by St. Louis when his double and single accounted for three Red runs, the margin of victory.

The three home runs—two by Baker and one by Ruth—featured the New York American victory over Chicago which gave the Yankees their first series against the White Sox this season.

Everything for QUALITY —nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.

Ben Cross Is Some Horseshoe Pitcher

The Horseshoe Pitching Standing at the end of the first week of the Four Man Tournament, certainly shows Ben Cross leading in everything. He has scored the greatest number of points, and the highest score in five games, pitched the greatest number of ringers in five games and thrown an even 50 ringers so far, which is an exact average of 5 ringers to a game. And yet the Cleaners of which he is an honored member has a percentage of less than 500.

Win 10; Lose 8

CINCINNATI, Aug. 11.—The Reds had a fortunate home stay, meeting five teams and losing only one series. They won the single game played with the Cubs, took three out of four from the Phillies and two out of three from the Braves, broke even in six games with the Giants and lost three out of four to Brooklyn. They won ten games and lost eight, which is first-division pace.

TO KEEP ELLER

CINCINNATI, Aug. 11.—Manager Moren decided not to let Hod Eller go just yet in view of the double-header and exhibition games still to come. He took the former shine-bait artist to St. Louis with the team last night, and will use him mainly in batting practice.

BEATING THE TARIFF

While Congress was wrestling with the new tariff bill, we slipped in, and imported over

25,000 Yards Of Worsteds And Tweeds

made by A. & S. Henry & Co., Ltd., Bradford and Huddersfield, Yorkshire, England, which arrived in New York on the S. S. Carmania on Apr. 9, 1921, and on the S. S. Mauretania on May 9, 1921.

These fine worsteds were woven of pure Australian virgin wool, full Merino stock, the finest and longest fiber obtainable; wool dyed before spun, two ply yarn, both warp and filling and of medium and heavy weights.

We secured the entire lot at a price which enables us to tailor them to your individual order, with mohair lining, all Irish linen canvas, stayed with French haircloth, and other high class trimmings, complete

Suit Or Topcoat $32 Made To Your Order

If bought by the average tailor, in the ordinary course of business, the cloth alone would cost him $32.

This is not a sale of the season's odds and ends, that will soon be unseasonable, but a remarkable offering of fresh new woollens, imported for fall and winter 1921-22 wear.

Look at our window display, come in and feel the soft quality of these worsteds; unravel the yarn, see the evenness of it, separate the wool and observe the fineness and strength of each Australian Merino fiber, and then compare them with the fabrics shown by the highest priced tailors.

You will find this the greatest bargain ever offered you.

THE FOURTH HORSEMAN

THE fourth horseman of the Apocalypse, who spreads death in various ways, but who usually is thought of in connection with famine and pestilence, has seldom been better described than by former Premier Kerensky of Russia in talking of the starving in his unhappy country. While the statements of Kerensky who is now in Paris, having been driven from his native land by the bolsheviks, may contain exaggerations on account of his prejudice against the soviet regime, the fact that the call of the All-Russian central executive committee for the aid of the stricken looks to the American relief organization to provide for 1,000,000 children and invalids shows the extreme gravity of the situation.

"Never in the history of the world has such a calamity confronted a nation," says Kerensky. "Never was such a mass of people left without provisions, exposed to disease, famine and plague. Even the great famines of China and India are not to be compared with that in Russia."

Unless immediate aid is given he fears the number of deaths in the country this year from hunger and pestilential diseases will reach 15,000,000. He bases his statement upon information he obtained from Russian refugees. Ten million persons, he declares, have joined the caravans that move over the dusty plains in search of food, with thousands constantly falling by the wayside. No vivid language is necessary to give the world to understand that conditions must be terrible in Russia and to arouse sympathy for the victims. How could the situation today be other than frightful in that land in view of the fact that the people were seriously oppressed before the calamities let loose by the world war reached them?

It seems to be a law of civilization that peoples can learn only by experience; that no triumph of progress is to be won without a struggle—without the payment of a price. It would seem that only by such painful methods can a backward people be aroused and developed. The trouble of the Russian people today is due principally to their own ignorance that has made it possible to fasten such misgovernment upon them. Out of the trial, however, there should soon come an awakening that will start them on the right road to better government.

As for the rider of the pale horse, we see, in the preparations being made by other countries to feed the needy in Russia, that he is a "judgment" that can be set aside. The moment food arrives for the starving, he will disappear. Courage and common sense should have little difficulty in ripping away some of the things now cursing Russia.

WEARING "CIVVIES" AGAIN

THE army is put finally on a peace-time footing by Secretary of War Weeks' order permitting officers and enlisted men to wear civilian clothes within the continental limits of the United States, "except when on duty or at a military post or reservation."

During the war wearing of the uniform was obligatory, whether one was on duty or off. Then there were so many soldiers about that the uniform ceased to attract the attention that it gets now when the forces have been demobilized. Both officers and enlisted men will welcome the opportunity to get into "civvies" for a change. Before the war it was not unusual for enlisted men both of the army and navy to be denied admission to places of amusement and entertainment when in uniform. While the present order applies only to the army, and soldiers, doubtless, would prefer to doff their uniforms when going out for pleasure, it would be a rash individual who now would deny admittance to a soldier or sailor in uniform. Since over 4,000,000 men donned the uniform there is a jealous regard for what it means that would bode ill for one who might dare to insult it by intimating that it is not a proper garb for any occasion.

The uniform is not an emblem of militarism but of the willingness to fight despotism if need be. It is the badge of patriotism, a patriotism that seeks no aggression, but will permit no invasion of our own rights.

WHAT MAY THE TAX-PAYERS EXPECT?

THE ways and means committee begins drafting the new taxation bill by excluding Democratic members from its meetings.

That is an unusual and arbitrary action and bodes no good. If the measure is to be formulated and enacted in good faith there is no reason why it should not be considered and discussed in the open and especially by members, who lawfully and according to established usage have a special right to participate in the work.

The majority of the committee makes it quite plain that it is to build the legislation on lines laid down for it and not in any conception of its own as to what would be proper and best.

In view of its position, it may be safely counted upon that the administration's proposal for the elimination of sur-taxes, affecting chiefly around five thousand persons, and the excess profits tax, with heavier burdens imposed upon small corporations and five million tax-payers, will be incorporated and rushed to enactment, just as was the new tariff bill.

Evidently the administration is proceeding on the medical theory, the quicker a disagreeable dose is gulped down the sooner that part will be over.

A San Francisco physician, aged ninety-nine, lays down as the first rule of living a century, to go to bed at 8:30 and get up at 6. Excellent rule, but who wants to go to bed at 8:30, to say nothing of getting up at 6, for 100 years.

England is so heartily in favor of disarmament that she has just voted millions for the construction of more battleships. She isn't as frank as Japan, who insists on knowing what the conference is going to talk about and what it expects to bind the participants to.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Long Island has a famous haired hostess of uncertain age despite her bobbed hair who is giving week end house parties that arouse the countryside. The Scotch is unworked at midnight and they come for miles around to their bathing suits.

Negroes who specialize in crooning crazy blues songs come in relays and the music is continuous until the guests literally drop out some time the next day. The guests are made up of what Broadway calls the "oil cans." An "oil can" is a person of either sex who will go anywhere at anytime where liquid refreshments is served free.

The hostess recently fell heir to a comfortable fortune and she has evidently set out to spend it as quickly as possible. The guests naturally cluck up their sleeves as they seek to aid her in every way to achieve what they term a laudable ambition.

"Fawcett, meeting you here?" they whisper to each other as if they were caught out slumming. At the latest a young leading woman who has been at liberty for some time became extremely devoted to a guest other than her husband. The husband stalked on the porch and drank deep.

She came out to watch the moon go around and he came stalking out of the shrubbery and delivered a sound smack on her cheek. The tigress strain was aroused. Her nails flew out like his face. He was soon dripping blood. And after each attack he would stand back melodramatically and "Ha, Ha" laughing to do it again. And from reports she did so much of that he is reported to have been scarred for life.

An old float is anchored off a good swimming distance from the hotel. One of the stunts—a cute little idea of the hostess—is to announce that the bar is closed and the only way one may be served is to swim to the float where servants have taken plenty of refreshments. After a star there there is danger in some of the guests becoming ambitious enough to attempt to swim the rest of the way across the ocean. Twenty three guests were counted sleeping on the lawn in bathing suits one Sunday morning recently as neighbors were answering the calls of the church bells.

A young novelist who recently sailed to England to see a dramatization of a novel was given a luncheon before the boat sailed. It was quite a luncheon, too, but his friends managed to get him to the ship. About midnight he awakened and the only light was the light of the moon that came through a porthole. He gazed out of it in fascination for about a half hour and then rang wildly for the deck steward. "Steward!" he said standing unsteadily "what the idea of all this water?"

My predilection for touching upon the alcoholic side of life in New York today can be brought short with the news that Nile, the baby camel at the Central Park Zoo has just attained the age of three months, a record for longevity among the species in captivity here. Camels born in New York menageries rarely live more than two weeks.

I regard Frances White as the most daring young dresser in Manhattan. She does her hair back tightly over her head into a roll at the back. And she is the only girl in town who permits her ears to show. Bare knees are common but bare ears—well, they are rare enough to be almost shocking. Incidentally Miss White told me the other day of a tragic moment in a musical play in which she was recently starred. In her support was Ben Welch who was stricken blind but plays on. He was supposed to read a letter she handed to him. Somehow the letter fluttered to the floor without him noticing it and he continued to read. It was supposed to furnish a laugh but the audience knowing he was blind but not another laugh was registered.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A Good, But Untimely Suggestion

The fact that Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, can now be purchased for $500,000 moves the Boston Transcript to urge that Congress buy it for a summer home for our Presidents—a country White House.

The Transcript thinks Congress "could not do a more popular thing" than make this investment. We doubt it. It would fall under the head of unnecessary expenditures, and the popular demand is that they be checked in every direction, rather than extended. The President himself, we dare say, would oppose such an appropriation in these times of financial stress. First let us weed out the waste that has been going on in Washington, provide for our wounded and crippled soldiers, and get business on its feet.

Human Nature Survives

War and peace have their contrasts. In sentiment, actions, prejudices and love. A hundred and thirty-eight British Tommies in the Army of Occupation in Germany, have succumbed to the charms of the German maidens and married them, with no fear of being "Jordled."

Doubtless none of these soldiers would have taken German wives at home, but prophitly, that persistent promoter of unexpected marriages, does its work on the Rhine just as it does when a man is stranded on a South Sea island. Love is no creature of race or language. Courtship can be done by signs, signs and glances the world over.

Tying and Knowing Knots

Anybody can tie a knot, but perhaps the great majority of men know but three kinds, the hard knot, slip knot and the bow-knot—the kinds used in securing a package, fastening a neck scarf, and tying shoestrings.

It comes as a surprise to learn that there are seventy-six different styles of knots. What they are all used for we have no idea. About a dozen kinds are commonly made by sailors, but we imagine fully two-thirds of the entire list are of little value even to those whose trade requires the greatest variety.

The Fees of Surgeons

"Under ordinary circumstances," says the Chicago Tribune, "a man will pay willingly for winning a law suit a sum which he would denounce as rank robbery if asked by the surgeon who forces him from cancer." This suggestive sentence came in a brief comparison between the professions of law and surgery. Its truth is impressive. We are willing to pay more to the man who protects us in court from the loss of property, than to the surgeon who protects us from death on the operating table. Satan said, "All that a man hath will he give for his life" and lived when he said it. Many things are dearer to a man than his life—his country and his family, for instance—but his money never should rank above his existence. The trouble is, man becomes so avaricious that he clings to his money as he clings to his life, and after the surgeon has saved the latter, he dislikes to part with any considerable portion of the former.

We inherit the hair on our heads and faces, the more or less true observation of a speaker at a eugenics meeting. We mention the matter just to lead up to the statement of the speaker that he and an assistant have counted the hairs on the heads of 1,500 people during the past ten years. Patient persistence, prodigious peeping pastime!

"Wind and weather" says the Boston Transcript, thus raising the question if wind is or is not weather.

A dollar put in the bank now is likely to have twenty-five per cent more purchasing power in a year or two than now. Saving in these times is a particularly good investment.

Wife Charges Cruelty

In her petition filed through Attorney R. F. Kimble the plaintiff complains that McGuire has continually cursed and abused her, whipped her at various times and knocked her down on one occasion causing her great suffering and bodily injury, besides, she says, he is now threatening her life and declares that on August 5 he came to the home of her sister at Sciotoville, where she is now living, and attempted to force their infant child from her by force.

Furthermore, she states, that his cruelty has been of such gross and constant nature that she cannot longer live with the defendant as his wife and a temporary injunction was allowed to restrain McGuire from interfering or molesting his wife or child in any manner.

Defendant Files Answer

For answer and cross petition to the divorce and alimony suit of Kate DeLoe, employed at the N. & W. shops denies the charges in her petition and then through Attorney R. F. He further claims she admitted to him of her immoral habits and that she had transferred her affections to another. He asks for the divorce and custody of their minor child.
